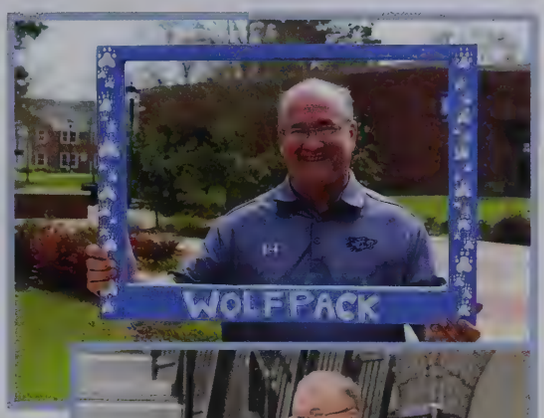
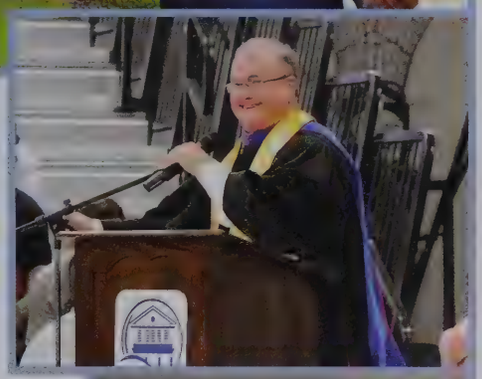
"Dr. Nettles has been an outstanding president and employee during his time at Co-Lin. His leadership has allowed the college to effectively navigate through several financial challenges experienced by the entire State of Mississippi as well as the nation. He was able to address various facility needs on all campuses by utilizing a variety of funding sources. He possesses many outstanding leadership traits such as wisdom, patience, integrity, kindness, and compassion. Dr. Nettles embodies what could be described as a true servant leader, and it has been an absolute pleasure working with him over the years."
- Dr. Jane Hulon, Vice President of the Wesson Campus/President-Elect



After over 32 years in education, Copiah-Lincoln Community College President Dr. Ronnie Nettles announced in November, his retirement effective June 30, 2018.

"I believe that our success as a college is because of the strong administrative team that has stood with me throughout my years as President," said Nettles. "They have worked tirelessly with our employees to help our college achieve national rankings in student completion rates, minority graduation rates, and veteran's services."



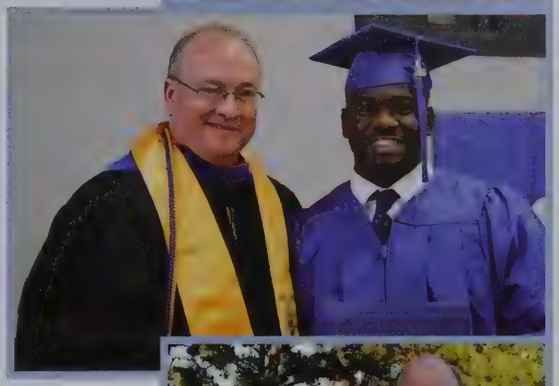
Nettles, who has spent the last 10 years as president of the college, served as the Director of the Community and Economic Development on the Wesson Campus from 1994-1997. When Dr. Howell Garner became president in 1997, he moved to Natchez to serve as the Dean of the Natchez Campus. Nettles moved back to the Wesson Campus as Executive Vice President from 2004-2008.

"I see retirement as just another of these reinventions, another chance to do new things and be a new version of yourself. I wish you well on your retirement, and hope that you will continue to be a blessing to others."
- Dr. Dewayne Middleton,
Vice President of the Simpson County Center

During his tenure as president, Co-Lin has seen growth in enrollment to an all-time high, increase in the Co-Lin Foundation's endowment to double to over $8 million, instituted new instructional programs and services that have increased student graduation rates, and construction of new buildings and other renovations on all three campuses.

Construction of six new buildings including the Alton Greenlee Pro Shop (2010), Howell C. Garner Instructional Building (2011), Eugene Bates Men's Residence Hall (2012), Stone Stadium Press Box (2014), Early Childhood Education Building (2015), and the new Women's Residence Hall (to be completed in 2018).

Renovation and repair projects including lighting on the softball and soccer fields (2009), Mullen Gymnasium (2011), Henley Cafeteria (2012), softball/soccer restrooms and concession stand (2012), Pitts Field House (2012), softball bleachers (2013), new hitting facility at baseball field (2013), visitors restrooms at Stone Stadium (2013), Anderson Building, Smith Hall Chemistry Lab, Ewing Fine Arts Auditorium (2014), Ellzey Hall (2016), Diesel Mechanics Classroom (2016), Callendar Hall (2017), new hitting facility at softball field (2017), energy/mechanical projects totaling over $2.9 million, roofing projects over $1.5 million, and two new parking lots and paving projects.



Co-Lin's latest building project is the new women's honors residence hall on the Wesson Campus. This $5.5 million project will open in the fall of 2018, will house 28 double bedrooms (for 56 students), a study area, laundry room, and an elevator. It will have a similar floor plan as Bates Hall, the men's honors residence hall that was built in 2012.

During his tenure as president, Co-Lin has been recognized on a national and statewide level. Co-Lin has been recognized by the Aspen Institute College Excellence Program for two consecutive times, Great Colleges To Work For by The Chronicle of Higher Education, Purple Heart College, Military Friendly Award (No. 3), Best Colleges in Mississippi, and are currently working to have the first ACT Work Ready Region in the state.

Nettles and his wife, Rosie, were inducted into the Co-Lin Foundation Hall of Fame in 2016.

"Have fun with your new found freedom. Here's hoping your retirement is a dream come true. Once you complete Rosie's "to-do" list, you can sit back and relax! Congratulations!"

This year's Taste of Co-Lin event on the Natchez Campus featured a Harry Potter theme. Five campus clubs competed in the annual event that features food, decor, and friendly competition. DECA won for best food and most popular booth. Faculty/staff and students were encouraged to dress their best in hopes of claiming best costume honors. Funds raised at the event benefitted Home with Heros for rehabilitation of area veterans' homes.

COMPLETE 2 COMPETE

In August of 2017, a new initiative to see more college graduates in Mississippi launched statewide. The initiative, Complete2Compete, aims for Mississippi adults who have completed some college, but received no degree, to return to college and complete their degree. Co-Lin was eager to reach out to former students and encourage them to return to Co-Lin. The first student to receive her associate's degree through the C2C program at Co-Lin was LaTasha Hooker of Hazlehurst (pictured).

"I started my degree a couple of years ago but unfortunately, I didn't finish it. I am so excited to have finally received my associate's degree," said Hooker. "I'm now planning to continue my education to earn my bachelor's degree."

For many students like LaTasha, being able to finish what they started is a welcomed opportunity. Co-Lin's C2C Success Coach Lea Ann Knight helps students realize the potential of earning their degree. Knight returned to Co-Lin after previously serving as Director of Counseling/Recruitment before her retirement. She now works one-on-one with C2C students to provide guidance and support while they navigate through the program.

"I'm so excited to be back at Co-Lin working with the C2C program," said Knight. "This position has allowed me to continue helping students, which is my true passion. It's a great feeling to assist someone who had no idea they were so close to graduation and see the excitement in their eyes when they realize how quickly they can return to school and finish their degree."

Since August, 58 students have enrolled in the C2C program at Co-Lin with 21 students on track to graduate in May. In addition, 98 degrees have been awarded to former students who had met the requirements to graduate, but never applied for graduation. Co-Lin has been the leader in community colleges in the number of associate degrees awarded through C2C. Knight said seeing the success of students is very rewarding.

"I am thrilled to have helped these students become fellow Co-Lin Alumni," said Knight.

The Higgs

David and Cindy Higgs are familiar faces on the Wesson Campus. Married for 36 years, 25 of those have been spent working together at Co-Lin. David works in the Social Science division while Cindy teaches in the Career-Technical division.

Cindy thought back on how they met.

"A friend told me she knew a guy I really needed to meet. I was not very optimistic, then it turned out to be this karate guy named David. Our first date was peculiar. We missed two movies, but ate at two restaurants," said Cindy. "That has set the tone for our relationship...peculiar, but filling!"

They enjoy traveling together, most often to the beach or mountains.

"Living with Cindy is a constant state of entertainment. She is smart and witty but can come up with some of the funniest situations, like losing her car keys in the refrigerator or her purse in the microwave," said David. "On our roadtrip to the Grand Canyon, we never once turned on the radio driving there or back. We simply enjoy each others company."

"David likes old kung fu and western movies, while I prefer crime solving shows," said Cindy. "We are quite opposites, but it works."

David began teaching history at Co-Lin in 1993 and has served as the Social Science Division Chair for the past six years. Cindy began teaching Medical Laboratory Technology soon after in 1994 and still serves in this role today. They've worked under presidents Dr. Billy Thames, Dr. Howell Garner, Dr. Ronnie Nettles, and soon to be president Dr. Jane Hulon.

David recalled a funny memory from years past.

"When Dr. Thames retired, I shook his hand and thanked him for hiring me all those years ago. He looked at me and said, 'You know we really hired you just so we could get Cindy to teach for Co-Lin, as well.'"

David is appreciative of the unique opportunities each president has allowed him to be part of.

"Dr. Thames involved me in a Mississippi Humanities Council project, resulting in the publication of my first book Wesson; Industrial City of the South. Dr. Garner aided in my production of "70 Years of Excellence," a video documentary. Dr. Nettles allowed me to travel to Korea and Japan to assist in the completion of a history book I was working on," said David.

Over the years, the Higgs have seen numerous changes on campus, including the demolition of the old bookstore, the building of Taylor Chapel, Wolf Hollow Golf Course, The Thames Center, and the Stribling Nursing Building. Cindy commented on being part of the Co-Lin family.

"We are always recruiting for Co-Lin. Wherever we go, we are identified with Co-Lin. Former students stop us to say hello and talk about their time here. It's heart-warming to know they still remember us from 10 or 20 years ago," said Cindy. "Sometimes I feel like a rockstar walking through Walmart!"

When asked about the challenges of working at the same place as your spouse, they mentioned only small scheduling conflicts on occasion.

"One year we were both selected to go to NISOD in Texas, but with a young son, we both could not go," said David. "I stayed home with Michael and Cindy went to Texas, though it conflicted with our wedding anniversary. I sent a card and a bottle of champagne to her hotel room the evening of our anniversary. But she even waited until she got home to open the champagne to share with me."

They both share fond memories of their time at Co-Lin. David mentioned the great pleasure he shares in watching former students return to Co-Lin as employees and fellow colleagues. Cindy is especially proud of the growth of the MLT program and the exceptional students she teaches.

"We didn't realize it until later, but God had a plan for us at Co-Lin. I wasn't even looking for a teaching job when I got the call about possibly working at Co-Lin in the MLT department," said Cindy. "It's clear this is where we were both meant to be."

SUMMER MISSIONS

Sophomore Rainee Luper reflects on her summer travels to Portland, Oregon. "I had the amazing opportunity of spending my summer of 2017 in Oregon through the Baptist Student Union. The BSU is partnered with the North American Mission Board and the International Mission Board in order to send students worldwide on mission projects of all varieties. While in Portland, I served on a four-person community ministry team and was involved in a local church in the suburbs of Happy Valley. Not only was I able to experience a different culture, I had the ability to share the Love of Christ with the people I encountered! I definitely recommend involvement with the Co-Lin BSU in order to broaden your opportunities to travel world-wide."

SUMMER MISSIONS

Olivia Ross, a sophomore, spent her summer in Ocean City, Maryland. "This past summer was an experience that I hold very dear to my heart and will treasure always. I spent eight weeks interning for Ocean City Baptist Church, and the team I was a part of was responsible for organizing an international student program where we would host activities for students from around the globe. We had a weekly schedule that consisted of surf lessons, church meals, English classes, and coffee hours. By the end of the summer, I could see God moving through me and my team as a student from Czech Republic approached me and said, 'You all have been so kind to me. It is because of your love that I know there is indeed a God.'"

The Co-Lin Lady Wolves had another successful season finishing with an overall record of 24-5, 11-3 in the MACJC South Division. The team overcame adversity losing two starters at the end of the regular season. But, they persevered finishing MACJC State Runners-Up and NJCAA Region 23 Runners-Up.

Coach Gwyn Young's team rallied as they breezed through the opening round and the semifinal round of the MACJC State Tournament by defeating the host Northwest Mississippi Lady Rangers 70-47 and the Northeast Mississippi Lady Tigers 66-57. In the championship game, the Lady Wolves were matched up against defending state champion and No. 5 ranked Jones County Lady Bobcats. Jones defeated the Lady Wolves twice in regular season and Co-Lin was looking for a bit of redemption. But the Lady Wolves fell behind early and could not catch up falling 78-53.

The Lady Wolves earned a berth in the NJCAA Region 23 Tournament at Mississippi College. They defeated the Hinds Lady Eagles for the third time this season in the opening round 69-64. In the semifinals, they beat Holmes Community College 63-57. In the championship game, they fell to Jones County 98-74. Sophomores Alexus Holt and Karry Callahan were named to the NJCAA Region 23 All-Tournament Team.

SOFTBALL

Lady Wolves head coach Allen Kent hopes for a successful season in 2018 as Co-Lin looks to dominate games on the defensive end and in the pitching circle.

The Lady Wolves have a lot of speed on the roster this season, and look to utilize it on the base paths.

One of the Lady Wolves biggest strengths this season is the pitching staff. Co-Lin returns MACJC All-State Honorable Mention Bailey Root and Christian Black inside the circle. Add to the mix freshmen Mackenzie Gros, Makenzie Smith, and Morgan Dubose, the Lady Wolves can give opposing teams different looks.

Lost to graduation were Kamryn Vandlandingham and Dianna Hobgood. Vanlandingham earned NJCAA All-Region XXIII recognition and MACJC All-State honors.

Returners include shortstop Alex Anthony, outfielders Taylor Bryant Allison Livingston, and infielder/catcher Alexsundria Thomas.

Joining the Lady Wolves are utility player Harmoni Ashley, catcher/infielder Julie Scheuermann, outfielders Callie Fortenberry, Paige Hulin and Tori Pettit, and infielder Abigail Thornton.

Kent is in his 16th season as head coach of the Lady Wolves. He is assisted by third year assistant and former Lady Wolf Jackie Stowe Johnson and first year assistant coach and former Lady Wolf Kaitlyn Taylor Foster.

Kent has accumulated a 366-223 overall record at Co-Lin and hopes this team continues the Lady Wolves' tradition of success on the field.

The Co-Lin Lady Wolves are coming off a year that saw success as they finished 6-8 on the year and fifth in the MACJC/Region 23 tournament. The Lady Wolves return Gyselle Daza, Co-Lin's No. 1 singles player, and have several talented freshman joining the team in 2018.

Daza is ranked as the No. 24 singles player in the nation by the ITA and is the No. 7 ranked player in the region.

Joining the Lady Wolves in 2018 is Carmen Manicea. Manicea is the No. 19 ranked singles player in ITA Region 3, and paired with Daza the duo is the No. 19 doubles team in the nation.

Returning for her sophomore season is Madison Franklin. Franklin is an all court player that is very thoughtful about her shots. Rather than win points with power, Franklin wins them with strategy.

Freshmen twins Katy and Kara Clark join the Lady Wolves as MHSAA State Class AA Doubles Champions for the past four years. The Clarks are talented and have a solid work ethic.

Faith Bergeron and Ashlyn Locke round out this talented freshman class. Both have excellent speed and instincts that can get them to balls all over the court.

With one of the deepest rosters in years, the NJCAA National Tournament is not out of the question for the 2018 Lady Wolves.

The Lady Wolves have five freshmen, but with stellar high school experience the group plays at a much more mature level. Pair that chemistry and understanding of the game with solid sophomore returners and anything can happen for the Lady Wolves this season.

The Wolves finished the 2017 season 9-6 and ranked No. 17 in the nation in the ITA final team ranking, but Co-Lin has greater expectations in 2018. Led by Sebastian Osorio and Juan Pablo Pinilla, the Wolves have their sights set on the NJCAA National Championship.

Osorio finished the 2017 season with an eighth place finish in the national tournament and is the No. 15 ranked singles player in the nation this season. The sophomore from Bogota, Colombia is the highest achieving Co-Lin player to date, but is very humble and displays extraordinary work ethic.

Pinilla is another extremely talented sophomore from Bogota, Colombia. Pinilla is currently the No. 34 ranked singles player by the ITA. He is primarily a defensive player, but in 2018 he has added more power to his game. Together Pinilla and Osorio are the No. 4 ranked doubles team in the nation.

Tripp Case and Sebastian Harrell are veterans who will be asked to take a leadership role.

New to the team this year is Bishop Barlow, Logan Channell, Braden Ishee, Tripp Wyatt, and Matthew Scoville. Scoville is a sophomore who is also a member of the Wolfpack golf team.

The men are coached by Brenda Smith. Assisting Smith are volunteer coaches Jefferson Nino (1st year) and Mike McIntyre.

With four strong returning sophomores, two nationally ranked players, and a group of freshmen that are talented on all parts of the court, the Wolves appear to have the complete package for 2018.

Golf coach Ronny Ross hopes that the success from the 2016-2017 will carry on to this year's squad. Last year, the Wolves won three tournaments, and finished in the top three in eight out of 10 tournaments. The post-season was just as successful as Co-Lin claimed the 2017 NJCAA District D Championship at Grand Bear Golf Course. The District title qualified the Wolves for the NJCAA National Championship in Messa, Ariz., where Co-Lin finished 11th. The Wolves finished breakout season ranked No. 4 nationally and landed Ross the prestigious Dave Williams National Coach of the Year Award.

Two returning sophomores from that team, former high school teammates Zach Smith and Matthew Scoville, look to lead the No. 8 pre-season ranked Wolves in 2017 and 2018.

Both Smith and Scoville hit the ball with power and distance, and have the ability to card very low rounds.

Joining the sophomores in 2017 are five freshmen, Lucas Brewer, Cameron Little, Will Hulon, Bryce Chapman, and Bragg Eplin.

All five players have similar styles of Zach Smith, consistent ball strikers that limit mistakes and capitalize on understanding the course.

The Wolves hope to remain a dominating force in the state, and have already shifted attention to the upcoming season.

Ross, entering his 17th year at the helm, looks to continue his tried and true coaching method that has produced several players that have continued careers after Co-Lin. Brandon Blakney, a NJCAA Division II Second Team All-American, is playing for Belhaven University in 2017. He joins Philip Heine (Southern Mississippi, Jr.) and Jacob Ross (Mississippi State University, RS Sr.) as Co-Lin alums playing at the next level.

NJCAA National Tennis Tournament

The Wolfpack men's tennis team wrapped up the 2017 season with two quarterfinal appearances in the NJCAA National Tennis Tournament in Plano, Texas.

Osorio faced Seward College's Carlos Anez, the No. 3 seed, in the second round. The pair went back and forth in the opening set, but Osorio hung on in a tiebreaker. Anez stormed back and took the second 6-0, however Osorio stayed alive by taking the third set 6-4.

In the quarterfinals Osorio took on Juan Cruz Scoppetta of Laredo Community College, the No. 5 seed. Scoppetta defeated Osorio 6-1, 6-1.

The win did not come easy as the Wolves hung on for a 6-3, 3-6, 6-3 victory. In the second round, the duo defeated Marc Avalos and Francisco Ton of Pima Community College 6-3, 6-3 to advance to the quarterfinals. In the quarterfinals, Co-Lin lost to the No. 1 seed Tyler Junior College consisting of Ferran Calvo and Enrique Pardo. The Wolves fell 6-1, 6-3.

Following the impressive season, Co-Lin's No. 1 singles player Sebastian Osorio was named Intercollegiate Tennis Association (ITA) All-American. The ITA is the governing body of college tennis at all levels.

Osorio finished the 2017 season ranked No. 8 nationally. Osorio was the only MACJC player to receive ITA All-American recognition in 2017.
